GERMAN HEAVIES ARE IN ACTION AGAIN TODAY NEAR AISNE

Recent Rains Slow up Fighting; Allied Rear Areas and Fismes Being Shelled

BY FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, Aug. 7.—German heavy artillery is in action for the first time since the boches were driven across the Ourcq. The firing is now the most violent since the enemy retreat from the Marne.

This is the first indication that the German guns have reached the line where the enemy intends to make a stand. Some are probably firing from north of the Aisne but the main line of resistance appears to be along the heights between the Aisne and the Vesle.

The American rear areas are being shelled and Fismes is under fire of high explosives and gas. Our gunners are giving as good as they receive or even better.

The soggy ground, resulting from the recent rains, together with the necessity for caution, has resulted in complete slowing up of operations.

The southern portion of Fismes is held in force by the Americans. Snipers are being routed out in a house-to-house search. But infantry operations in the past 24 hours have been confined to patrolling and searching out the German lines.

The boches are keeping the Vesle under constant machine gun fire and patrols are doing daring work in crossing the river.

Marshiness of the ground along the river bank also aids the boches, making any movement there most difficult. The Americans are forced to flounder through the marsh to a fordable spot, then half swim and half wade to the opposite side.

Increasing boche terror of falling into the hands of the Americans can be observed. A hill southeast of Fismes was littered with German dead, all shot in the back, when the position had become untenable. They had fled rather than surrender.

The wounded boches, who had been hiding three days, begged not to be killed when they were brought in. They said their officers told them the Americans took no prisoners.

An American balloon observer made a sixth daring leap to safety when a Hun plane brought down his gas bag. In five previous attacks the boches had not got his balloon, but forced him to jump. Yesterday afternoon his balloon was shot down in flames but the observer landed safely after a parachute ride.

TELLS PART PLAYED BY GENERAL BERTHELOT'S ARMY

BY LOWELL MELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Aug. 7.—Now that the battle of the Marne pocket has been definitely won, there is time to tell the part played by the army of General Berthelot, who visited America en route from Siberia to take command. Only two weeks before the battle opened, Berthelot's army held the line from Rheims to the Marne and participated in some of the hardest fighting of the whole conflict.

A visit to the battlefield today reveals to some extent the nature of the engagement which finally culminated in success. One indication is the enemy unburied and the great quantity of captured material, such as a large number of shells in Bois de Arrey, two complete German batteries and hundreds of machine guns. These also show how well the enemy is equipped. In many parts of the front line machine guns were arranged seemingly like pickets, while in nearly every nest was a minnowwerter.

The Germans had fifteen divisions (180,000 men) in their front line. Berthelot had fewer. Nevertheless on July 16 the second day of the German offensive, he received the order to counter attack. He did so effectively and the next day repeated it. The spirit with which Berthelot's army fought contributed greatly to slowing up the German advance across the Marne, farther to the west, which was their principal purpose. Some points, like Hill 240, had orders to hold at any cost. They did. Others instructed to hold off the Germans as long as possible even exceeded their instructions.

Berthelot was unaware of the French counter attack plan until it was under way. When General Mangin's counter offensive started Berthelot was ordered to attack also, sending his reserves against the Ardre river, a vital German position.

KAISER'S DENTIST AT BIG CONVENTION

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—"Inside dope" on the Kaiser was to be given 3000 dentists here today for the American Dental Association convention. A. M. Dennis, American practitioner in Berlin and the Kaiser's dentist, was to tell his colleagues his experiences with the Hun emperor. Senator Borah and Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis were other speakers.

The dentists yesterday were assured America's army is preparing and fighting under the best health conditions. Gen. W. C. Gorgas told them the soldiers would come back lean and fit—and the stay-at-homes would benefit by patriotic abstinence in eating. There are now enough dental surgeons in the army to care for five million troops.

500,000 TO REGISTER IN STATE FOR 18-45 NEW SELECTIVE DRAFT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—Between 450,000 and 500,000 men will be subject to the draft in California if Congress passes the pending selective service bill to register men between 18 and 45, Adj. Gen. Borah announced.

The new draft will require more than double the number of local exemption boards and examining physicians, and a corresponding increase of district boards, medical advisory boards and appeal agents, Borah said.

General Borah was called here by Governor Stephens for a conference on the pending draft. The machinery to supply the new increments from this state has already been set in motion, he said.

YANKEES ARE 'SATANS' TO GERMAN SOLDIERS

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 7.—"Satans" is the name for American soldiers among the German soldiers, according to a letter written by Lieutenant Ranke, who, as "officer-war correspondent," writes for German papers.

In the Dusseldorf Nachrichten he tells of a skirmish between a patrol of men from that city with an American patrol, who by their "impudent audacity" had been giving the Germans much trouble. Both parties were hidden in shell craters, he says, and stalked each other for nineteen hours, with the result that three wounded American "Satans" were brought in. For their work their captors received iron crosses.

TRIED TO KILL SELF BECAUSE OF FRIENDS

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The strain of living up to his reputation proved too much for Master George Harris. At the Guildhall recently he was bound over for 12 months, after attempting to commit suicide.

Since the age of 13 this boy has had an extraordinary career of adventure. He was at Antwerp when it was taken by the Germans, escaped from there, and afterwards accompanied Sgt. O'Leary, the famous Irish V. C., and attracted much notice by addressing recruiting meetings at Hyde Park and other places.

Several people interested themselves in the boy, and he obtained an excellent position. He lost his situation because he was suspected of theft.

The thought of his friends' disappointment weighed so much on his mind that he tried to kill himself by drinking a concoction of phosphorous match-ends mixed with vinegar and various other evil-tasting ingredients.

LAKE CHARLES, La., Aug. 7.—One dead, several injured and thousands of dollars of property damage was the toll today of the tropical storm which swept in from the gulf late yesterday and struck this city.

Buildings at Gerstner Field, government aviation school, were reported badly wrecked.

Dozens of buildings were smashed and overturned in Lake Charles and only the heavy rain which accompanied the wind storm prevented disastrous fires.

Wire communication throughout this section was demoralized.

FOCH PLAYS THE GAME WITH ALL PATIENCE AND FORESIGHT

Avoids German Pitfalls and Frontal Attacks; Real Offensive Later

BY J. W. T. MASON
(United Press War Expert)

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—General Foch's high quality of patience is again controlling the Allies' strategy south of the Aisne. Von Hindenburg's enticements to the Allies to overrun themselves and fall into carefully prepared German pitfalls are having no more success now than at any time since the retreat from the Marne began.

The Germans are in strong defensive positions north of the Vesle. They are holding their line desperately for the work of moving their guns across the Aisne is a slow and laborious process. To drive the Germans back by frontal attacks along the Vesle would exact a heavy death toll from the Allies, much in excess of what the Germans themselves would suffer.

Artillery bombardments or threats to encircle the Germans are the right favored methods of attack under present conditions. It is not worth the heavy cost of direct assault on present German positions to drive von Hindenburg beyond the Aisne more rapidly than he must go eventually.

The time for the Allies' major offensive has not yet come and the fewer casualties the Allies suffer in the meantime the more certain will be the final result of the offensive. It doesn't matter to General Foch whether von Hindenburg is compelled to shorten his line now or later. The inevitable must happen. Von Hindenburg, however, desires General Foch to try to force the inevitable before its time. If von Hindenburg can inveigle General Foch into entering destructive minor offensives before America's millions are fully prepared there remains a chance that in the end the Allies will have whittled away their new resources.

So von Hindenburg turns at bay and invites the foremost units of General Foch's troops to engage in pitched battles. But the trap is without avail. General Foch is familiar with all the tricks of the old fox. Inexorable as fate, the American troops are filing into France. Time, therefore, waits at Foch's command and the pause at the Vesle is an integral part of the Allies' strategy.

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 7.—Love laughs at speedometers. Yes, and gasoline and tires. Otherwise Miss Esther E. Gustafson would not be Mrs. E. A. Craig of Healdsburg.

Forgetting that county lines make a difference with marriage licenses, they drove to Calistoga only to find their license invalid. They finally wound up in Santa Rosa after journeying 75 miles in their automobile. (Note the plural possessive.)

ENEMY DRIVEN BACK, DANGER IS NOT OVER

LONDON, Aug. 7.—"Marshal Foch's counter stroke was the most brilliant in the annals of the war," Premier Lloyd-George declared in the House of Commons this afternoon. "He drove the enemy back but the danger is not yet over."

Wild cheering greeted the mention of Foch's name.

"Until the Allies are defeated on the sea, Germany never can triumph," Lloyd-George said. "The tonnage of the British navy at the beginning of the war was two and a half millions. It now is eight millions."

The Premier paid eloquent tribute to the work of the Americans since March 21, when they had only one division in the line.

"If the British had been overwhelmed in March, the Americans could not have arrived in time to save France," Lloyd-George went on. "Our losses in men and material at first were beyond expectation, but within a month 350,000 reinforcements had been sent across the channel."

Speaking of the Americans, the Premier said:

"Everyone knew the American army's courage but its trained skill, especially that of its officers, is beyond expectation."

The Premier referred briefly to peace saying, "We all desire peace, but it must be just and durable with the power behind it to enforce it. I believe in a league of nations, but we must be careful of the conditions under which it is established."

Harris was the first taken off. He was landed on the roof of the Electrical Development Company at 8:40 o'clock. Lofberg was landed on hour later.

The men made the trip from the scow in a breeches buoy operating on lines shot across the scow by the U. S. coast guard from Fort Niagara.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—(12:30 p. m.)—German positions at the flanks of the Aisne-Vesle line, west of Rheims and east of Soissons, are being subjected to an enfilading artillery fire, it was learned here this afternoon. PARIS, Aug. 7.—(12:25 p. m.)—Allied troops repulsed German attacks against La Grange farm on the Vesle river line, and captured the Sisy-Salgogne railway station, the war office announced today. West of Montdidier the allies made progress on a front of about two miles.

ELIMINATE ALL UNNECESSARY LIGHTING, REQUEST

M. & M. Directors Urge Observance of New Light Regulations

Directors of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association this morning took official action in a request to the merchants of the city to observe the light regulations and to co-operate with City Fuel Administrator A. J. Crookshank in reducing expenditure of steam power generated energy to the minimum. All business men are advised to conform to the regulations as announced by the administrator.

The directors were called in special session this morning to confer with Crookshank, and the action of the board came after a full discussion of the situation. The spirit of co-operation with the government in its plans to conserve fuel oils for war uses dominated the directors, and they believe that every business man in the city who is using light for the purpose of displaying his business will cut out such light until the national administration rescinds the order issued recently.

While the regulations ask that unnecessary lighting be eliminated only on Monday and Tuesday nights, the request of the association covers every night of the week except Saturday.

A few electric signs blazed in the city Monday and last night, but were

ANSWERS QUESTIONS ABOUT HOW ONE MAY ENTER Y. WAR WORK

Chairman Francis Ready to Interview Those Seeking Appointment

Rev. George A. Francis is anxious to interview men who contemplate entering the Y. M. C. A. war work. As chairman of the Orange County Recruiting committee he feels that there are a good many men in the county who could and would enter the work if they understood the details of the requirements and the breadth of the opportunity offered.

The office of the recruiting committee is in Room 5, Orange County Trust & Savings Bank building, Santa Ana. "There," said Chairman Francis, "any prospective applicant can and should hold an introductory interview where the very best explanation possible regarding the type of men, the age limits, the mental and physical requirements, also the financial conditions relative to this enlistment will be cheerfully given."

"Application blanks for the applicants' personal use, also reference blanks and directions regarding photos, medical examinations, and the requirements regarding life insurance, will all be provided."

"A description of the type of service required, the various branches of activity for which men are needed, the different army forces with which it is possible to locate, the amount of equipment for the applicant's personal use, the Y. M. C. A. arrangements for the care, transportation, length of service term and return trip home expenses, the supply for home needs, also the stipend by way of an allowance for the incidental expenses of the applicant abroad will all be explained."

"Now do not write to Los Angeles or San Francisco or New York or the general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. or to your pastor but to the Orange County Recruiting Committee and your affairs will be properly cared for, and your application will receive full attention."

"The Y. M. C. A. is filling an important place and has undertaken a tremendous job in connection with this great war."

"From a military standpoint the Y. M. C. A. is intended to sustain the morale of the army. The business of the Y. M. C. A. is to fight the Hun and win battles in the conflict. The business of the Y. M. C. A. is to render the army more capable in mind and moral and pep and determination, to do this stupendous task."

"The Y. M. C. A. does a fine work in a variety of ways by establishing social centers, clubs, gatherings and resting places, of which in France there are more at the present time than 750. These are all called huts, which range in size for accommodation from 100 to 1000."

Besides the athletic, educational and socializing features of the hut, there is the religious, which consists of services, addressed by able speakers who understand how to deal in a big, broad, sympathetic way with the soldier by nature in encouragement, advising, rebuking, warning and instructing, along the lines of great moral issues.

TO MAKE CHANNEL AND CONSTRUCT SHIPS AT THE HARBOR

Strong Corporation Will Dig Itself in at Newport Beach

With a contract signed for the dredging of Newport Bay, with funds provided under the $50,000 bond issue voted by the city of Newport Beach some time ago and the dredging contracting firm under contract to install a ship building plant, Newport Beach again assumes the position of a prospective ship building city. The contracting firm also has purchased thirty acres as a site for its ship building plant.

The Pope Shipbuilding Corporation is the name of the concern which will do the work and eventually start the shipbuilding industry at the Orange county harbor. The corporation has been organized by men who are said to be thoroughly responsible and they have evidenced their faith by the placing of a bond to carry out their agreements. The building site of the company lies on the south side of the bay immediately back of the Newport garage and extends to the proposed channel. The property was purchased from Stevenson and Gleason.

J. P. Greeley, as chairman of the Board of City Trustees, signed the contract papers in the deal in Los Angeles yesterday, he and Lew H. Wallace and City Clerk Lemon taking them to Los Angeles for proper execution by the men representing the corporation. The company has 210 days in which to complete its dredging contract, and in the meantime must build the dredger and do the work. Work on the dredger is to start within thirty days.

The corporation, in a sense, will "dig itself in." It is to do the dredging work necessary to make a channel of sufficient size and depth to make launching of its ships and towing them to the ocean possible. The estimated cost of the dredging is $100,000, the returns from dredged material in filling new lands being figured on to provide the funds between the amount of the bond issue and the estimated cost.

The corporation, which is headed by Frank Scoville as president, Ed D. S. Pope as secretary-treasurer and general manager and A. H. Rose as vice president, contemplates, say the directors, first, completing their contract with the city of Newport Beach in dredging the channel, and, second, the erection of a shipbuilding plant costing about $500,000. Other dredging, which at present is only in prospect, would cost about $400,000, say officers of the company, thus bringing the enterprise into the $1,000,000 class.

The directors of the corporation are Mr. Pope, Frank Scoville, W. M. Loftus, A. H. Koebig, S. J. Chappel, Mark S. Clark and A. H. Rose. The papers relating to the dredging were signed yesterday in the office of H. F. Scoville, attorney for the company, Mr. Wallace representing President Greeley of the Newport Beach Board of Trustees. The dredging, according to the contract, is to be assembled or started in thirty days, and actual dredging must begin in ninety days. The officers of the company say that work will begin at once. The channel will follow the one laid out by the Government several years ago, but will not be so wide. It will be 125 feet wide and ten feet deep at low water tide and about two miles long. Koebig and Koebig are engineers for the company.

The ultimate plans of the company is the erection of a plant for the erection of ships of all sizes and classes, principally of wood and concrete. The tract purchased is located at the head of the proposed Government deep-water channel. The consideration, which, it was said, was very low under the circumstances, was not given out.

It is anticipated by the moving spirits back of the organization, among whom is, besides the officers, N. H. Beer, who will be the general superintendent, that about 1000 persons will find employment at the plant. How soon erection of the plant itself will begin was not stated yesterday.

OIL IS NOT SOOTHING WHEN DUMPED INTO BAY

ALAMEDA, Aug. 7.—Oil which is reputed to settle troubled waters and lend a soothing influence, has certainly not lived up to its past with the citizens of Alameda.

Some one in San Francisco dumped a quantity of oil into the bay and Alameda got the benefit of it. Now the citizenry are up in arms and their shores are besmirched with the fluid. Some of it even reached the bathing beach and caused much discomfort among prospective mermen.

JO V. SNYDER STOPS HERE IN CAMPAIGN

Democrat, He Is for Lieutenant Governor on Republican Ticket

Jo V. Snyder of Nevada City, who will have the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor and who is also seeking the Republican nomination, and his wife, stopped in Santa Ana yesterday afternoon for a few minutes as by automobile they were passing through from San Diego to Los Angeles.

Snyder was a member of the 1903 assembly, at that time the youngest member of that body. His business is that of manager of the Nevada City Morning Union. In his platform announcement he declares himself solidly back of President Wilson, against I. W. W.-ism, for pruning state expenses, for various movements such as government ownership of railroads and public utilities, for the development of water and land and manufacturing, for aid for soldiers returning from war.

On the wet and dry question, Snyder has stated his position as follows:

"I believe that all forms of proposed liquor legislation should be decided by a direct vote of the people. Personally I am in favor of the abolition of all high-proof liquor, but I am opposed to bone-dry prohibition, for I do not believe in stifling abruptly California's extensive wine grape industry, which has been encouraged by the state in the past. I believe the people, rich and poor alike, should have the privilege of partaking of light wines and beers in moderation, if they so desire, under the most stringent state regulation. However, I am a firm believer in the will of the people, and if they are given a chance to vote on the ratification of the National Prohibition amendment, or any other proposed liquor act, I will uphold and abide by their decision, be it wet or dry. No fair-minded person or interests should be afraid to allow the people to speak, and every faithful and honest public servant will follow his or her mandate, irrespective of their own opinions. To select a man solely because he would vote for or against prohibition, without regard for any other of his qualifications, would be un-American, while the public official who places his personal preferences above the dictates of the people is unfit to represent an honest constituency."

Snyder is a Democrat, and his name will appear alone on the ballot to be given registered Democrats on August 27. His name will also appear upon the ballot to be given Republicans, since he is seeking the Republican nomination in opposition to J. J. Rominger, C. C. Young and A. H. Breed.

SANTIAGO PEAK FIRE LOOKOUT IS WOMAN

Former Philippine School Teacher Takes Loneliest Job in the County

If any fires spring up from now on in the Trabuco district of the Cleveland National Forest, they will be spotted by a young woman on the top of Santiago Peak, stationed there as fire lookout for the Forest Service.

Miss Winifred Hunter, the newly appointed lookout very recently returned from the Philippines, where she has been a government school teacher, and is again going into the service of Uncle Sam, though in an entirely different role and with a decided change in surroundings. The appointment was made by Forest Ranger J. B. Stephenson of El Toro. Miss Hunter is a sister of Ed Hunter of Trabuco.

Santiago Peak is over a mile high and commands an immensely wide view over all the Santa Ana mountains and surrounding plains and valleys below, making an excellent lookout point for fires which may start either outside or inside the boundaries of the Cleveland Forest. A government telephone line runs over the top of the peak, which enables Miss Hunter, the lookout, to call up the district forest rangers either at El Toro or Temescal, on either side of the mountain range, in case of fires. She is also equipped with a heliograph by which she can flash messages to a patrolman who may be distant from a telephone.

It has been more or less difficult to keep a man steadily in the lookout job on Santiago Peak, because of the solitude. There are probably few places from which one can see more country, communities and towns, and yet on which one can become more lonely and "abandoned" than on Santiago Peak. A man will make good at it usually for a few weeks, then he begins to hunt around for a different sort of job.

When these drawbacks were explained to Miss Hunter, she said she didn't mind them and was accustomed to being in lonely places. She wanted permission to take her gun and two dogs to the top of the peak with her, and with these she asserted the solitude would have no effect on her. Miss Hunter will live in the regular lookout's cabin which is located about 200 yards down from the glass-enclosed observation house on the top of the peak. Water and supplies have to be packed up the mountain to her, periodically by means of pack burros.

Santiago Peak makes a fine hiking point for the tourist, though it means a long hike. The distance is about nine miles from El Toro to the Joplin ranch at the foot of the mountain; from there one takes the Santiago Peak trail, built by the Forest Service, and climbs to the top, by foot or horse-back, in about three or four hours. The Sierra Club "made" the hike on one of its trips last May, assisted by two of the forest rangers. The club brought blankets along and spent one night on the peak, though by a rush trip one can make it in one day.

Santiago Peak is one of the four principal, high lookouts on the Cleveland National Forest and is the only one to date in the south on which is stationed a woman lookout. The other lookout points are Tahquitz Peak in the San Jacinto mountains, Hot Springs Mountain, and Cuyamaca Peak. The combined views from these lookout points embrace the whole southern end of California and part of Mexico. Fires are quickly located by the lookouts' locating instruments and word is telephoned to the nearest patrolman or ranger in order that a fire may be speedily controlled.

The public, however, is realizing more than ever the danger of fire on municipal and community watersheds and people are more careful with fire than formerly.

Forest Ranger Stephenson has made careful arrangements for guarding against fires during the dry months. Co-operation between the forest service, county fire warden and patrols of the El Modena and Villa Park Water companies will be continued as in former years.

MERCHANTS WILL GAMBOL AT PARK ON AUGUST 21

Stores of City Will Be Closed Tight for the One Day

Santa Ana is going to be more than bone-dry of business—on Wednesday, August 21, for every business house in the city will be closed on that date while merchants and employees gambol on the green at Orange County Park.

The Merchants and Manufacturers' Association has inaugurated a big merchants' outing and picnic for that day and various committees have been appointed to arrange and carry out details for a great day of entertainment and pleasure. The committee charged with calling upon business men and asking them to close, announces that the success of its efforts has been beyond its anticipation and that absolutely every business house in the city will be closed for the day.

Doors will be closed in stores that have never seen a suspension of business—stores that have not observed holidays or Sundays because of the character of their business.

Cards announcing the closing of the store on the 21st have been posted in the windows. The various committees are now at work programming the day's activities. Business men, whether members of the association or not, will participate in the plan for a day of release from the cares incident to conducting business and all will hie themselves to the county playground to enjoy the pleasures of the day's vacation.

Hot coffee and lemonade will be served by the association, but each one is expected to provide his own eats. Prizes are to be given for various features. Wholesalers of Orange county and Los Angeles are co-operating and will donate the prizes.

It originally was planned to have the picnic on Labor Day but some opposition developed and that date was changed to Wednesday.

WILL KEEP KING'S LETTER AS A SOUVENIR

Santa Ana Boy Sends Document to Mother for Safe Keeping

John Parley Black, son of Mrs. Dotie Stephenson of 523 North Baker street, has sent home to his mother a souvenir from "over there" which he prizes highly and which he asks his mother to keep for him until he returns. It is the letter written by King George to all the American boys in April complimenting them on their arrival and successful expeditions. The letter was printed in the papers here at the time.

Black is with the artillery in France and enlisted in San Francisco, going from here to enlist. Extracts from his letter follow:

"We had a splendid trip over. I enjoyed it all the way. This is a beautiful country, much prettier than California. The houses are all made of brick and each house has about a dozen chimneys. I haven't seen a stovepipe yet. The only thing that looks funny is the money. The pennies are as large as our half-dollars and are worth as much as two of our pennies. The steam cars here are as small as our wagons over there. I haven't seen a two-horse rig yet. They all seem to be one-horse affairs. The streets are only half as wide as ours. "Inclosed you will find a letter from King George, written by himself to our soldiers. Please keep it for me until I return. I can write only about once a month, but I would like to get letters from all my friends once a week anyway, as we get very lonely."

THOSE WASTED PRUSSIAN MILLIONS

It is gratifying to learn, on the testimony of no less an authority than George Sylvester Viereck, that after spending about $50,000,000 for propaganda in this country, Germany "got nothing for it." The fact, of course, has long been patent, but one hardly expects a Viereck to admit it, seeing that he himself was one of the propagandists who undertook to turn that money into American sympathy for Prussianism.

It was inevitable that the money should be wasted. It was likewise inevitable that the effort put forth by all the propagandists, imported or native, paid or unpaid, should be wasted, because it was based on an absurd misunderstanding of America.

Viereck really thought that if he had been given $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 to buy American newspapers with, he could have kept America out of the war. He still thinks so, despite the experience of the New York Mail, which lost influence in proportion as it became an apologist for Germany, and was forced to resume its Americanism in spite of its German control.

German propaganda really succeeded, to a remarkable degree, before the war. It aroused in this country an unfounded and mischievous distrust of Japan, and a tremendously exaggerated idea of German civilization. With the beginning of the war, however, the Prussian doctors of opinion lost their cunning. They have failed utterly all through the conflict, and now that we have once seen through the sham they will fail utterly hereafter.

WHAT WOMEN HAVE DONE

"You women," said the country doctor cheerfully to his guest, "have shot the practice of medicine completely to pieces."

"Fifteen years ago, when the thermometer got up in the nineties and stayed there a few days I always had eighteen or twenty cases of cholera infantum on my hands, and try as I might I'd lose one or two of them. This year I haven't had a single case."

"You mothers don't shoot all sorts of fool stuff into your children's stomachs any more. You bathe them oftener and dress them more sensibly, and you have fewer flies around and you're wiser every other way about the care you take of your homes and your young ones. I used to go around telling these mothers of sick babies how to take care of them to keep them well, but I was a prophet without honor. Now the mothers call me in occasionally to advise about the feeding of well babies, but except for barning 'em, my baby practice is a thing of the past."

"You don't seem unhappy over it," remarked the guest.

"Unhappy? Say, I've got a farm out in the country and I'm raising the nicest shorthorn cattle you ever saw. I can't cure the sick kids any more, because you womenfolks have spoiled all that. But I'm making more money than I ever used to—on the excellent job of feeding the well ones!"

And the above needs no editorial comment.

AIR IN PUBLIC PLACES

A medical man suggests that tickets or invitations to public gatherings should carry with them a guarantee of fresh air and good ventilation.

We may as well admit that if such a guarantee were required, there would be a lamentable falling off in public assemblies. The air in churches is generally bad, despite their size and the height of the ceilings, because it is seldom changed. The air of lecture rooms and ball rooms is generally worse. The air of theaters and restaurants is often so stifling and foul that it is intolerable to a person unaccustomed to a deadened and polluted atmosphere.

It is useless to try to dispose of the matter by calling the critics "fresh air fiends" and letting it go at that. The critics are normal and right. The only "fiends" involved are the men and women so habituated to stale air that they are "doped" with it, and no longer know the difference. The doctors all agree nowadays as to the need of thoroughly oxidized air for the preservation of health, and the dangerous infections that lurk in the foul air of crowded auditoriums. It is as bad to breathe polluted air as to drink polluted water, and there is less excuse for it.

The world is full of perfectly good air. All that is necessary, ordinarily, is to open doors and windows. If there is no breeze or natural draft, the air must be moved in some other way. An electric fan will do the work, provided it is handled intelligently, and used to blow the stale air out or draw the fresh air in, instead of merely stirring the dead and germ-laden air around and around after the usual fashion.

ANOTHER JOB FOR WILSON

John Dillon, the Nationalist leader, in a speech in the House of Commons, has proposed that the Irish problem be referred to the arbitration of President Wilson.

We may safely say that this particular task is one which the President, however great his desire to do an ally a favor and apply democracy to Ireland, will dodge gracefully but conclusively.

The President happens to have his hands full already, without going out of his way to settle a political-religious-racial problem that has baffled British and Gaelic statesmanship for two or three centuries. Having, according to his own characterization a "one-track mind" he prefers to give his undivided attention to the engrossing American job of kicking Germany.

HOLD YOUR LIBERTY BONDS

To successfully finance the war it is necessary that owners of Liberty Bonds hold their bonds if possible. Where for any good reason it is necessary for them to turn their bonds into cash they should seek the advice of their bankers.

Liberty Loan Bonds are very desirable investments, and crafty individuals are using various means to secure them from owners not familiar with stock values and like matters. One method is to offer to exchange for Liberty Bonds stocks or bonds of doubtful organizations represented as returning a much higher income than the bonds.

There are various other methods used and likely to be used, some of the gold-brick variety and others less crude and probably within the limits of the law. All offers for Liberty Bonds except for money and at market value should be scrutinized carefully. The bonds are the safest of investments and have non-taxable and other valuable features.

To hold your Liberty Loan Bonds, if possible, is patriotic. To consult your bankers before selling them is wise.

A CALL TO DUTY

From the battle fields in France there comes an unspoken call that should find an answer in every American heart. The recent great events in Europe, the successes of American arms on the fields of France should spur every American to greater effort.

Our people at home should not rest on the laurels of our soldiers in France. Every death on the field of honor in the line of duty and for our country's cause should be a call to us for every sacrifice and every exertion to aid the cause for which our soldiers are fighting, for which our soldiers have died.

Increase production, decrease consumption, save, and lend to the Government. Every cent lent to the United States is used to support, strengthen and aid our soldiers in France.

Making Politics Out of It

From the San Bernardino Sun

Judge Walter Bordwell, in his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor, thinks conditions justify him in criticizing Governor Stephens for relieving Tom Mooney until December, and the Los Angeles jurist is quoted as saying in a northern address:

"Regardless of political consequences, the governor should have settled the Mooney case during the campaign and not put it off until after the election."

Which moves us to observe that regardless of political consequences, the governor should not have settled the Mooney case during the campaign. Not only so, but Governor Stephens did not "put it off until after the election," but until after the prosecution had tried Mooney on another count to satisfy the people of the state as to his guilt.

As the Sun observed at the time the governor's decision was announced, politically he would be better off if he had never heard of Tom Mooney. He did not seek the situation nor set the stage, but he took things as he found them, and in our judgment he made the only decision he could have made, in keeping with an eye single to the needs of justice. Judge Bordwell says he should have "settled the case." Under the conditions, he did better than that. He referred it back to the courts to be settled. The conditions are peculiar. Mooney is charged, not with only killing one person but with slaughtering eight and maiming many others, in addition to making a mockery of a great patriotic celebration. He was tried and convicted on one count—for the killing of one person. If that had been the only charge, then the governor might have been compelled to "settle the case," by saying either that Mooney should hang, that he should be imprisoned for life, or that he should be pardoned. But in this case, the governor could take a fourth course of action, which was really the only thing for him to do. He said to the executioner: Stand back until the court investigates another of these cases and says whether there is room for doubt as to Mooney's guilt. And in view of the fact that a man's life or his liberty is at stake, the Sun believes he did exactly the right thing, campaign or no campaign, and that other candidates are likely to underestimate the temper of the people if they seek to make capital out of the action at Governor Stephens' expense.

If Tom Mooney is guilty he ought to be hanged on a gibbet higher than Haman's. But rightly or wrongly, there are so many people who doubt that guilt that no governor should have permitted the execution to proceed, when another trial is possible.

*** And she asks me—How old am I—And how old was I—When I first—Commenced to write—And every thing—

*** And she says—She thinks my stuff—Is sometimes funny—And she would like to be—A humorous writer—

*** And she asks me—Am I naturally funny—Or do I have to—Study a long time—Before I can think—Of anything funny—

*** And let me—Tell you, Geraldine—This is my birthday—But I won't say—How old I am—Because Mrs. Flivver—Won't let me—

*** But I am old enough—To know better—Than to tell anyone—How to write—For it can't be done—

*** And I don't try—To think of funny things—Because I am—Of a very serious—Turn of mind—

*** And I am so serious—That for a long time—My folks didn't know—Whether I would be—A preacher—Or an undertaker—

*** And I wrote an article—For the paper—Telling how dealers—Shouldn't leave things out—To tempt people—And other animals—

*** And the editor—Sent me word—Everybody was laughing—Over my article—And would I write more—And he would pay me—

*** And I hadn't—Intended to be funny—And I went out in the country—To stay a month—To live down my shame—

*** And ever since then—When I try to—Write something funny—Everybody cries—And when I write—Something serious—Everybody laughs—

*** And, Geraldine—If you want—To be an author—Start right in and write—And when you—Get a trunk full—Of rejections—

*** Some day—Some fool editor—Will send you—A nice check—And they will keep on—Buying your stuff—As long as you—Remain insane—By Bud.

Court House News

SAYS LIGHT GLARE NOT BOOZE CAUSE

When he went on the stand in his own defense today, W. E. Wright of Fullerton testified that it was the glare of lights of another automobile, not intoxication, that caused him to run over Capt. Koepsel, Lieut. Elliott and Hayden of the Santa Ana Home Guards and Lieut. Smith of Orange at Fullerton on the night of May 20. He said he had not stayed in Anaheim over five minutes.

Capt. Hauck of Fullerton, G. C. Welton and Sherman Glaze, who helped take Wright to jail after the guard officers were run down, Sheriff Jackson and Capt. Ralph all testified that they saw Wright and felt sure he was intoxicated. Roy Berry testified that he was at a cross street to keep out vehicles during the exercises being held at Fullerton, and that Wright drove by him without heeding Berry's call to him to stop.

Wright is charged with driving an auto while intoxicated, by which the guardsmen were injured. The jury may receive the case this afternoon.

SMASHING OF BED IS INVOLVED IN ARRESTS

Yesterday when Ed Miller, a ranch hand from Talbert, was before Justice Cox on a charge of disturbing the peace no evidence was produced to show that Miller had made seditious remarks. He contended hotly that he was American born and that he had served six years in the American army. It appeared that after words at Tony's restaurant Sunday evening he went to his room in a rooming house where he was followed by C. L. Young, a naval recruiting officer, who had heard that Miller had made disloyal remarks. Young accused Miller of being pro-German, whereupon Miller used the short and ugly word, and there was a clinch and the two men fell over on the bed, which was broken. Miller was fined $10 for disturbing the peace. This morning Mrs. C. N. Hargraves, proprietor of the rooming house swore to a complaint charging Young with disturbing the peace. Young pleaded not guilty and trial was set for Aug. 9 at 10 a. m.

Jim Sells, who says he is 17 and who looks nearly 30, pleaded not guilty to vagrancy, and trial was set for Aug. 30. Under Sheriff Iman says he saw him loafing under a tree near Seventeenth and Prospect, and when Iman started to talk to him the man waved a knife.

"You are another one of those preachers," said the man. "No, I am an officer, and you close that knife and put it in your pocket," replied Iman, showing his revolver.

"Well, an officer is about the same as a preacher," replied the man, as he complied with instructions.

FOX MAKES NO REPLY TO MRS. WALTER'S SUIT

George A. Fox, held to answer in Los Angeles on a charge of embezzling money from Mrs. Anna G. Walters, formerly of Anaheim, will make no answer to two complaints filed in this county by Mrs. Walters in which Mrs. Walters asks the superior court to set aside two deeds given by her to Walters. One of these deeds is to a lot in Laguna Heights, and Fox is the only defendant. This lot was deeded to Fox at a time when she says she was led to believe that he was going to marry her. Fox had never deeded the lot to anyone else. The other deed is to a $60,000 orchard at Anaheim. Fox deeded this property to R. M. Moore and A. F. Starr, who will fight the proceedings. Fox, who is named as a defendant, will not contest the case.

Not Seeking a Position, But Looking for a Job

G. B. (Ben) Brown

To the Voters of Santa Ana Township. I wish to call your attention to my candidacy for the office of Justice of the Peace of Santa Ana Township, and to ask your support at the polls August 27.

In requesting your support I do so, not as a man seeking an office, but as a man seeking a position which he knows he can fill and which will enable him to support himself and those dependent upon him.

I was born in Santa Ana, Aug. 17, 1879, and have lived here practically all my entire life.

It is not essential that a Justice of the Peace shall be an attorney admitted to practice, but the office requires a man with a keen sense of right and wrong, and who is not likely to be biased in his opinion.

I am personally acquainted with many of the residents of this Township and I believe those who know me will say that I am competent to fill the position.

I take this means of bringing my candidacy to your attention because, owing to physical disability, it is impossible for me to make a personal call.

Should I be elected, I will administer the office without fear or favor, and with justice to all.

Yours very truly,

G. W. BROWN.

Company of Relatives for

Entirely unsuspecting that her birthday anniversary would be celebrated yesterday, Mrs. C. S. Hubbard was seated upon her front porch with company last evening, when a merry group of her relatives drove up calling cheery congratulations to her. The surprise was complete. Mr. Hubbard was in the secret and helped to carry out the plans.

The time was happily spent with social conversation, piano and graphophone music and late in the evening the self-invited guests cut the lovely birthday cake and served it with delicious ice cream.

The cake held the word "Mother" and the two important dates and besides this, Mrs. Hubbard was the recipient of many other beautiful gifts including a handsome hand-made dress scarf from a daughter in Long Island, Kansas, the gift arriving yesterday.

Those participating in the affair besides Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard were the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Overton, her sister, Mrs. C. C. Cozad and husband, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Waggener, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Waggener, Miss Josephine Waggener, Payton and Vernis Waggener.

BUSINESS HE FOUNDED

E. T. Shaw, a resident of this city some years ago and founder of the business now known as the Crystal Cleaning Company and the other cleaning establishment known as the Sutorium, has returned to Santa Ana to make his home. He is accompanied by his daughter, and Mrs. Shaw will join them here in about a month. Mr. Shaw and family have been at Miami, Okla., since leaving here, when departure was taken because of Mr. Shaw's health. He is delighted to get back to Santa Ana and sees that many notable changes have been made in the city since he left. He has accepted a position with P. L. Erney, proprietor of the Sutorium, and being a first-class hatter, will pay special attention to this work, equipment for which will be added to the business.

Mr. Shaw and daughter accompanied O. M. Harrison here in the latter's automobile, the trip being made in two weeks to the day, a distance of something over 2000 miles. Mr. Harrison is a stenographer and hopes to get a position here. If he does he will send for his wife and take up a permanent residence.

Widow Preferred to Meet
Death at Home

"For many years I suffered from stomach trouble. All the doctors I tried helped me but little. All said I would have to go to hospital and be operated on for gall stones or I would not live much longer. I told them I preferred to meet death at home. One day I picked up an advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and since taking a course of it, my stomach has not had a single upset since. I have a good appetite and can eat anything. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

APPLICATION FOR A PERMIT OF CONVEYANCE BY MITCHELL
AUTO STAGE COMPANY

To the Hon. City Council, City of Santa Ana, California:

The necessity and convenience of the public demands that additional motor bus service be authorized on the regular route from San Diego to Los Angeles, for the following reasons:

1. That the number of cars now operating on said route is approximately 25, operated by the A. T. G. Bus Company, an Arizona corporation, the Pickwick Stage Company, a corporation, Southern California Stage Company, a corporation, California, and United States Stage Company, a corporation.

2. That the type of cars now operating on said route are approximately 25, operated by the A. T. G. Bus Company, Hupmobile, Oakland and Cadillac.

3. That the fares charged for passengers on said route are $3.00, with privilege of round trip at the reduced rate of $5.00.

4. Headways to be maintained by the motor bus service on said route by the applicant, at 25 to 30 minutes per hour.

5. The present motor bus service on said route is inadequate for the following reasons:

6. That the number of cars in service are not sufficient to accommodate the traffic.

7. That the other means of transportation between said points is the Santa Fe Railroad and the Pacific Steamship Company.

8. That railway and steamship transportation is inadequate for the reason that both the railway and steamship are congested in doing special government service.

9. That the type of cars applicant proposes to use and operate on said route are Packard, 1916-1917, Twin Six, seating capacity, 8 passengers.

10. That the fares applicant would charge if permit is granted is $3.00 one way with privilege of round trip, $5.00.

11. That the applicant expects to make the present service more adequate for the following reasons: That each car of applicant, a corporation, is to be driven by a stockholder of the corporation, necessarily directly interested in caring for the patrons and maintaining the schedule.

12. If permit is granted to applicant, it will use cars already in the service between said points.

13. That the cars engaged in said service by the applicant, which it proposes to operate, are controlled by the Mitchell Auto Stage Company, a corporation, and now owned by the stockholders of said corporation, and title to be transferred to the corporation as soon as permits to run are granted.

14. The experience of applicant in the motor bus business has been as follows: The stockholders of said corporation heretofore operating as the Mitchell Auto Stage Company, a co-partnership and Stage Company, a corporation, and Los Angeles, and the individual stockholders of said corporation having for many years past operated said cars under an arrangement with the stage company having permits over said proposed route.

15. The experience of the drivers and their knowledge of the mechanism of the car of each driver, is more than two years last constant operation of an automobile operating Auto Stage driving out of the City of Los Angeles, and with various motor vehicles prior to said time.

16. I have read the Santa Ana rules and regulations and understand them.

17. Each stockholder of said corporation and the drivers of the vehicles of said corporation are familiar with the provisions of the Traffic Ordinance of the City of Los Angeles.

18. That the Mitchell Auto Stage Company, a corporation of the State of California, present address, 422 L. W. Hellman Building, Los Angeles, and the names and address of its officers are as follows: J. R. Van Horn, President, Harold E. Scott, Secretary, same address.

FROM SNOW HEIGHTS
TO SUMMER HEAT

There is quite a difference between rolling snowballs at Mt. Ranier a week ago and the hot weather of today, but Southern California and Santa Ana look mighty good to me, and I am glad to get back home.

Mrs. Mary Matthews, who has been absent for the past six months, gave expression to the above this morning. She spent three months in Florida after leaving here and then visited in various states of the east. She visited with her father, Charles Osterman, at Central City, Neb., before returning home.

WASH THE KIDNEYS!

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys every few minutes. This is why the kidneys play such an important role in health or disease. By some mysterious process the kidney selects what ought to come out of the blood and takes it out. If the kidneys are not good-workmen and become congested—poisons accumulate and we suffer from backache, headache, lumbago, rheumatism or gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; chancous often get sore and sleep is disturbed at night. So it is that Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., advises "Washing the Kidneys," by drinking six to eight glasses of water between meals and then if you want to take a harmless medicine that will clear the channels and cure the annoying symptoms, go to your nearest druggist and obtain Anuric (double strength). This "Anuric," which is so many times more potent than lithia—will drive out the uric acid poisons and bathe the kidneys and channels in a soothing liquid. If you desire, write for free medical advice and send sample of water for free examination. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anuric" is a most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar. "Anuric" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all.

"Whoso Takes the World's Life on Him, and His Lays Down, He, Dying So, Lives"

"Whoso takes the world's life on him, and his own lays down, he, dying so, lives."

Every one of our boys who fall, "over there," has taken the world's life on him and, dying for that, lives

There has never before been a war like this, in respect of the inspiration and aim. Our Revolution gave in—Our Civil War meant free-dependence to a small people. For only two or three millions. All our other wars were but local incidents, comparatively.

The American fighting today takes the world's life, all humanity's cause, upon him. He is suppressing the inequalities and injustices that have ground men down through the ages. He is putting down greed and caste and arrogance of power throughout the world, and showing by his sacrifice that all men belong to a common brotherhood.

Falling, he lives in his deeds, and that's the most that can be said of any of us.

WOULD DISSOLVE EVEREN PRAYER ASSOCIATION OF POULTRY PRODUCERS BY SWISS FOR REALIZATION OF IDEALS

It Is Alleged Organization is Hampering Industry in Southern California

That the Poultry Producers Association, organized by State Market Director Weinstein, is collecting too great a differential between the selling price of eggs and poultry to the consumer and the price paid to the producers, is alleged in a petition placed before Los Angeles Food Administrator yesterday, asking that the license of the association be revoked. The association has a federal license to operate. The petition declares that the poultry industry is being greatly hampered by the operations of the organization. The petitioners, representing the leading poultrymen of Inglewood, Gardena and Burbank, with their attorney, Marshall Sidmon, appeared before Cole yesterday. Cole listened to the appeal for the revocation of the federal license held by the association, but took no action, pending the return to the city of Frank H. Suffer, personal representative in Southern California of Ralph P. Merritt, food administrator of California.

It is expected that a formal hearing will be arranged, at which time both sides will be present to advance arguments as to why the license should or should not be revoked. It is claimed that many poultrymen through the fact that the poultrymen are receiving a lesser price for their eggs and poultry by reason of being controlled by the association than they could receive in the open market.

The petition to have the license revoked is based on the grounds that the association raises prices on poultry and eggs to the consumer, but does not give a corresponding increase to the producer.

Poultrymen accompanying their attorney to the food administration headquarters yesterday asserted that they are receiving from 6 to 8 cents less per dozen for eggs than they are entitled to.

The high cost of poultry feed is given by the poultrymen as a reason why they cannot continue in business if they are to lose this 6 to 8 cents per dozen, which they claim they are doing.

The statement was further made that the members of the association who are seeking to withdraw have been threatened with legal action if they do so.

Copy of Historic Document
Sent President from Geneva
Is Received Here

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 7.—Copy of a historic document sent to President Wilson by the National Protestant Church of Geneva, Switzerland, is contained in a newspaper in possession of E. Schneider, member and elder of the Presbyterian church here while residing at Garden Grove. He formerly resided at Westminster. Schneider is a native of Switzerland.

La Patrie Suisse (The Swiss Patriot), a French-Swiss journal published in Geneva, Switzerland, contains a photographic reproduction of the document of national interest, which reads as follows:

Post Tenebras Lux.
(After Darkness, Light.)
Eglise Nationale Protestante de Geneve.

(National Protestant Church of Geneva.)
To Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America.

Mr. President:

On the 16th of April, 1918, the Consistory of the National Protestant Church of Geneva, which dates its origin from Calvin himself, resolved to send you a tribute of admiration for the imperishable thoughts of the purest inspiration which are expressed in your messages to the Congress and to the people of the United States.

The Consistory wishes also to assure you of its gratitude for the invaluable aid you are lending our country in its present economic difficulties.

Switzerland will never forget that during the critical period of the most terrible wars, the great sister republic beyond the ocean has held out to her a helping hand.

The citizens of the oldest democracy in Europe have been profoundly impressed by the eloquent words in which you have set forth the duties of a new humanity and laid down the principles of a Society of Nations, based not on force, but on Justice, Liberty and Right.

They will ever remember that you have proclaimed that the guarantees exchanged at the conclusion of peace must neither recognize nor imply a difference between big nations and small, between those that are powerful and those that are weak.

It is the first time in history that the chief magistrate of a country which counts more than a hundred million inhabitants declares to the whole universe that armies and navies must be a power for order only, not merely an instrument of aggression or of selfish violence.

The protestants of Geneva feel a legitimate pride in recognizing in you a spiritual son of the Calvinistic Reformation of the Sixteenth century. They are happy to find in your messages the principles with which the Puritans of England and Scotland and the Pilgrim Fathers were imbued.

We write this letter in the very building in which the great Scotch reformer, John Knox, preached the gospel from 1556 to 1559, to his fellow countrymen, exiled from their native land for their religious convictions.

We address to Almighty God a fervent prayer for the realization of your high ideals which would establish the reign of peace on earth good will to men.

May 7, 1918.

August Lemaire, president.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance: the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION.—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Adv.

Never Reversed on Appeal

No attorney could have made a better record as justice of the peace than has been made by J. B. Cox, candidate for re-election.

Here are some of the high lights of his career:

He has set a standard for law enforcement all over California. His docket shows that he has handled Five Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-five (5965) criminal cases, including speed cases. He has collected and turned in to the County Treasury Thirty-nine Thousand Six Hundred and Twenty-three Dollars ($39,623). There have been filed Nine Hundred and Twenty-eight civil cases, and the fees collected on those cases and turned in to the County Treasury total Twelve Hundred and Ninety-four Dollars ($1294). Total sum turned in to the County Treasury by Justice Cox's Forty Thousand Nine Hundred and Seventeen Dollars ($40,917). My dear voter, don't you think it pays to run your justice's court in a business-like way? If you think so, keep Cox on the job.

Keep Cox on the Job

Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox says:

"It is impossible for me to get out among you and see all of you personally, so I use this means to tell you that I am running for justice of the peace of Santa Ana township.

"I have tried to run this office on common sense principles. Whether or not I have succeeded, my record alone will show. Very few cases have been appealed from my court, and not once has MY DECISION BEEN REVERSED IN THE SUPERIOR COURT. My policy has been and, if elected again, will continue to be to TREAT ALL ALIKE. I permit no man, combination or men, party or combination of parties, to have a PULL in my court.

"Justice is depicted as being blind. She stands armed with the sword and scales, but about her eyes is tied the bandage which prevents her from seeing where the sword strikes or how the scales balance. The bandage is placed upon her eyes in order that she may be the more impartial in meting out punishment. This is the platform on which I stand.

"One of my opponents would try to lead you to believe that the Justice Court of Santa Ana ought to have an attorney to hold the office. His main reason is that an attorney would be able to instruct juries. Instruct juries! Holy Moses! One might think that there is nothing else to do but instruct juries. We should remember that a justice should be conversant with practice and procedure in Justice's Courts, that there are things a justice comes up against besides instructing juries.

"If it were in any way advisable for a Santa Ana justice to instruct juries, I could buy these stock jury instructions for ten cents per dozen.

"Most of the reversals suffered by superior court judges in this state come from defective instructions to juries. Thousands of dollars' expenses are run up in re-trials because of that very thing.

Instructions are not needed in justice's courts. Lawyers don't want them, litigants don't want them, juries don't want them, and we don't have a jury trial once in three months, anyhow.

"So I propose, if elected again, to go along as I have in the past. No Clarksonium Instruction goes in my court."

KEEP COX ON THE JOB—Why? Because—

He has got a stiff backbone, with a dynamo in the middle of it.
He has ALREADY made it SAFE for people to travel on our public highways.

You know where he stands.
